GRASSLAND NEWS NOTES

GRASSLAND—Six persons narrowly escaped injury when a car driven by C. Rea and a truck owned by Ideal Welding Co. of Redwater were in collision on the highway two miles west of Redwater last Saturday. Four passengers in the car and two in the truck were able to walk away from the accident.

The truck was severely damaged as it overturned in the ditch after the collision. The front of the car also suffered extensive damage. RCMP from Athabasca were called out to the scene of the collision. Cause of the mishap was said to be faulty steering in the Rea car.

A direct result of the accident was the loosing of a grey dog wearing license number three on its harness. Anyone seeing the dog is asked to phone No. 1 Redwater.

Miss Lena Gordey of Wandering River and Jack Davidiuk, well known Grassland farmer have announced their engagement.

Mrs. Margaret Kibbe, school teacher here, has returned to Edmonton after staying a few days with friends in Grassland.

Mrs. Lloyd Dakin of Atmore, winner of last year's Bulletin "Queen contest," will be teaching grades 7 and 8 at Grassland this year.

A party was held at Maty Sawchyn's on Saturday, to celebrate the completion of his new house.

New Courage To Avenir Pioneer

AVENIR—For seven long years the Avenir pioneers have been waiting patiently, while working very hard with so many inconveniences and yet never losing courage and faith that some day they would have this land surveyed and able to call home.

Well! at last the lucky day has come. Surveyors are now at work and you should see the grin on the farmers faces.

There is still a thing worrying them though and that is what kind of a deal will they have from the government. They hope that they will have good arrangements made. All this is being a thrilling and adventurous feeling to know that real soon it will be their permanent home.

Warning to Drinkers

How often have you seen drinkers leave the beer parlor and step into the car outside the door and drive away? How many innocent victims have you read about in the past few years—victims of drinking drivers?

For a long time the sage words of advice have been "If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink." The wise drinker does not drive his car or truck immediately after drinking. He either drinks when he is through driving or has a non-drinker to drive his party and himself after drinking.

Until now, only a drunken person could be indicted for exceeding the law by driving after drinking. But what constitutes drunkenness? Some can "hold their liquor" better than others. Medical men say that even one drink can so lower a driver's efficiency and good judgment as to constitute a hazard on the road.

In future, any driver involved in a court case will be subjected to the question: Were you or were you not drinking prior to the accident? That is, immediate enough to the time involved to affect his driving. If so—$50.00 fine first offense; two weeks in jail for the second; three months in jail for the third offense.

"If you drink, don't drive".

Mr. Ivanchuk And His Fish

In the modern Utopia, which is Socialist Saskatchewan, lives John Ivanchuk, a northern lake fisherman with 46 nets, and a boat with motor. Like other fishermen in Canada Mr. Ivanchuk is subject to rules and regulations designed to protect his industry. Unlike other fishermen in other parts of Canada, John is beset with numerous marketing regulations imposed by the C.C.F. Saskatchewan Government.

For violating one of these government rules, Mr. Ivanchuk's fishing gear, together with 1600 pounds of fish, were seized by a Government agent, and without any effort to give John a trial, held for 46 days. We trust the fish were kept under refrigeration for the 46 days or they might have made a stink as offensive as this case generally is to Canadians and our concept of freedom and justice.

For five weeks Mr. Ivanchuk's means of livelihood was taken away from him. As the Calgary Albertan says: "No charges were ever laid. There was no search warrant. The Government scoffs at the idea of compensation."

This sort of thing happens in Russia and Communist dominated countries. Surprised that it happens in Canada?

The Region Needs Religion

The news from Hongkong, China, is that large groups of Protestant missionaries have applied to the authorities in Red China for permission to leave the country due to the fact that American property has been seized, bank deposits frozen and there is an increasingly hostile attitude toward Western missionaries in general.

We think the missionaries are showing good sense but, at the same time, we doubt that there is an area in the world more in need of the principles that the missionaries represent.

Note and Comment

When the average factory worker in the United States eats his breakfast before his eight-hour shift it will take him only 9 minutes and 45 seconds to pay for it—2 slices of toast, 2 slices of bacon, a potato, 2 eggs and a glass of milk. His father in 1914 had to spend 32 minutes and 48 seconds at the factory to secure the same hearty meal.

While figures for Canada are not available, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture points out that this statement applies equally in Canada as in the United States.

Ronald Levang of the Edberg district narrowly escaped serious injury last week when the tractor he was driving overturned, coming to rest with all four wheels in the air. He managed to jump to safety and received only minor bruises.

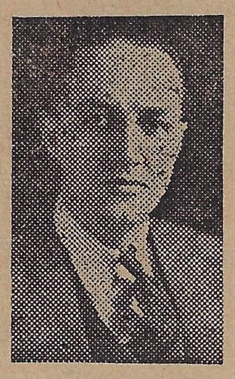

Many farmers, however, are not so fortunate, and during the last two weeks of July at least four deaths occurred in tractor accidents in Alberta.

A Soldier Returns To Re-Married Wife

By T. W. PUE

Out of the 1941-45 war with Japan, comes a delayed action human bomb. A last-ditch hold-out Japanese soldier came back from the dead.

In the farming village of Hatakeyama, where he was born and raised, Shinichi Kodaka, soldier of Japan, was, until recently, dead. His "ashes." shipped home from a battlefield in the remote Marianas, had been interred in the family burial plot; his dutiful wife, Mume. who had borne him four children. had given herself. according to custom and tradition. to Shinichi's younger brother, Shiroshi. The war had been over nearly six years and Mume and the children —there was now a fifth child— had left the small family farm to live in town, where Shiroshi was employed as a rubber boot salesman.

T. W. PUE

Then Shinichi, now 40, came home from the war.

There was nothing supernatural about his return from the grave. The sturdy, bespectacled veteran just happened to be one of 19 Jap warriors who held out until last June 30 on the Island of Anatahan, in the Marianas, refusing to believe the war was over. The Navy finally persuaded them to give up by dropping letters and snapshots from relatives in Japan, setting forth the facts.

Nor was Shinichi the only Enoch Arden in the lot. Four others discovered that their wives had remarried in their absence. But Shinichi was the only one who found his wife had submitted to tradition and married her brother-in-law.

Twenty-nine-year-old Shiroshi, after a bout with his conscience, decided to give up his (or Shinichi's—legally the point hasn't been settled) 39-year-old wife. For one thing, four of the children were Shinichi's. And then, Shiroshi explained, "My brother deserves a new chance after all those years on the island."

This was all right by Shinichi. He agreed to adopt as his own the nephew Mume had borne.

Now Shiroshi, freed of family cares, is discovering what he missed all those years when he had a wife and children. From all over Japan he has been getting letters like this one from a young girl.

"The moment I saw you in the newsreel you became my dearest man. I must devote my whole life to you."

At the moment, he's in no hurry to get married again. Sometime, Shiroshi says, he'll choose —"the best letter in the pile."

Nobody asked Mume, who dutifully followed Shinichi back to the farm, how she felt about it all. But the agony column of a Tokyo newspaper, where, even in Japan, love transcends family considerations, has heard from her. Plaintively, Mume wrote:

"I have been sorriest of all for the way things turned out."

William Randolph Hearst

(From Calgary Albertan)

William Randolph Hearst, in influence, wealth and scope of operations, was probably the No. 1 newspaper publisher in the world. By material standards he was probably the most successful. But he wasn't the best.

His vast newspaper properties were indeed an empire, and he was the emperor in much more than name. His slightest whims, right up to the time of his death, were immediately translated into fanatical crusades from one end of the United States to the other. There was no independence in his chain. Each paper was his personal tool.

Hearst was a keen disciple of "yellow journalism," and his mastery of it contributed to his success. He pandered to the tastes of the least intelligent and most unstable and unreasonable of his readers. It is a reflection on the public, more than on him, that there should have been such overwhelming response.

Nevertheless he was a good craftsman, if establishing, reorganizing and promoting newspapers can be called a craft. Apart from some of his outlandish editorial notions and his "yellow" publishing tactics, he helped to improve the pace if not the standard of journalism in his country. There was no sloppy or indifferent news-gathering on his papers. He provided his readers with more news than they could find in most other papers, and that, it should be admitted, may have accounted for his success more than anything else.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It : BY H. T. WEBSTER

Voice of the People

"VOX POPULI, VOX DEI"

FOR MAIL IN THE MORN

Dear Sir—If we must receive our mail only once a day, can't we at least get it early? We're lucky now if we get it by 1 p.m. Why not make that one delivery at 8 a.m.?

PLAIN DISGUSTED.

Edmonton.

BUSYBODIES

Dear Sir — Surely Uncle Sam has enough dirty linen of his own to wash, without trying to do Canada's also. Minding one's own business is something the U.S. need badly to learn, and their diplomacy is somewhat amateurish.

Senator McCarthy and his like are personal non gratae with all free thinking people, and the Senate of our neighbors should be told bluntly to mind their own damn business.

Edmonton. G.S.G.

Dear Sir — So some damfool Yankee has said that the States is getting tired of hearing complaints from Canada about the U.S. foreign policy. He said the U.S. is more important to Canada than Canada is to the U.S. Well, I would like to know what the U.S. could do if Canada were attacked . . . they would have to come to our aid . . . for the simple reason we are plenty important to the States. Canada is plenty important, and the States and their damfool politicians should realize that.

Redwater. CANUCK.

BANK CLOSING

Dear Sir—I don't agree with your editorial saying banks should close on Saturdays, and stay open only five days a week.

As a matter of fact, banks should be open more hours than they are.

There are a lot of robberies caused by the fact that storekeepers have to leave their money in their shops because the banks aren't open to accept deposits. At least one bank in Edmonton should be open 24-hours a day.

SINATRA DISGUSTS HIM

Dear Sir—I feel certain that the numerous press releases regarding the current amorous pursuits of one Frank Sinatra must offend the decency of many readers. I'm glad to note there's been nothing in your paper about him, as to assume that the general public is interested in the love life of a crooner is an affront to our intelligence.

Edmonton. DISGUSTED.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Dear Sir—People are funny. At times we look back with nostalgia upon the early 30's, when we had scarcely anything to worry about except where the next meal was coming from.

WAR PENSIONS

Dear Sir — The cost-of-living index is now 187, but the recipients of pensions and War Vetterans' Allowance are still on the same basis rate without any increase in either pensions or allowances.

A single man getting a War Veterans Allowance receives a basic of $40.43, and a married man gets a basic of $70.83 a month.

Nothing can justify the lack of government action in respect to the class of people who are now suffering and for whom no steps have been taken to keep their living conditions on a level of what they were even in 1945.

DIVORCE

Dear Sir — Talking about divorce in parliament, which was mentioned recently in a column in your paper by T. W. Pue.

What does God say about it? Get out your King James bible and turn to Romans 1-2-3 for "the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband as long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband, but if her husband liveth, and she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress."

UNREASONABLE QUESTION

Dear Sir—Applicants for the old age pension will be disturbed by two questions, one of which asks their residence for the past 2 years, and the other requiring residence of the previous period of the lives, and the next question asks a confirmation from persons who are familiar with the facts of the two previous questions.

These questions are absurd, particularly the one asking for confirmation of evidence regarding the pension applicant's previous residence. Who would be familiar with all the previous addresses of a man 70 years old?

Perhaps these questions are calculated to create obstacles to the realization of the pension.

LIQUOR TO MINORS

Dear Sir—They are getting after the dope peddlers, so why not go after those who sell liquor to teen agers?

I am a widow with a teen-age son. He can go into most beer parlors without any questions being asked . . . and I think he's even got a liquor permit.

It's about time that something should be done about teen-age drinking.

Beaver Trapping Program Here Pays Off; Alta. Farmers Will Net $370,000 This Year

Many busy little beavers are putting themselves out of business in Alberta by providing a new prop to the economy of the province's hard-working farmers.

Government authorities said that a year-old provincial beaver trapping program would put an estimated $370,000 into the pockets of some 498 farmers this year. The estimated catch was 18,450 beaver, about three times the number taken last year by registered trappers.

PELTS WORTH $35

The first year, 1950, saw 472 permits issued with 2,073 beaver taken by the farmers from their land. The best pelts bring up to $35.

Ten years ago beaver were found only in isolated parts of Alberta. Strict controls were introduced to halt poaching, and a closed season was enforced on all trappers.

Slowly, the beaver population began to increase and move into settlers' areas.

The next thing the government knew it was being swamped with farmers' complaints about how the beaver dams were flooding their hay meadows, crops, roads and bridges.

One beaver caused more than $10,000 damage when it burrowed through the main irrigation ditch in the Lethbridge district.

Beaver can be live-trapped during the early spring, but most are taken between Aug. 1 and Sept. 15 when the cubs are old enough to travel.

The government is making sure the beaver population doesn't get sadly depleted again. Inspectors determine exactly how many beaver a farmer can take from his property.

RAT INVASION FOUGHT HERE

Residents along 250 miles of the Alberta border are preparing war on those rats from Saskatchewan.

Rats have been reported pouring into rodent-free Alberta between the border towns of Alsask and Empress. The provincial agriculture department announced Thursday a campaign from the the United States border to Provost—some 250 miles—to keep the pests out.

William Lobay, department supervisor of pest control, is in charge. He said the first step will be meetings to organize volunteers and demonstrate control measures.

Mr. Lobay said the attack will try to prevent the rats from establishing winter colonies in Alberta. At present the rats are foraging in fields.

Bears With White Spots Roam Park

Federal travel bureau officials say that bears with white spots on their sterns are roaming Alberta's Waterton Lakes National Park.

However, they are not a new breed of bear. The white spot is ordinary paint.

Officials say the bears are marked before being transported from the park townsite to more remote sections of the 204-square mile park. If they return to the townsite area in search of tidbits, they can easily be identified.

"It's just a method of keeping track of movements of animals in the park," officials said.

The stronger sex is usually the weaker sex because of the strength the weaker sex has over the stronger sex; or is it because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex?

Alberta Man Sees Sister, 73, For First Time in Life

CALGARY, Alta.—(BUP)—Mrs. Annie Braithwaite, of Spanish Port, Utah, saw her brother here recently for the first time.

Mrs. Braithwaite is 73, her brother, Henry Hansen, 60.

"People find it hard to believe when I tell them," Hansen said, "and I guess I cant' blame them.

"But when Annie drove up to our house the other day it was the first time in my life I had seen her and the first time she had ever seen me."

A long story lay behind the unusual separation of the family. Mrs. Braithwaite moved from Nebraska to Utah with her pioneering Danish grandparents before her brother was born.

She married in the western state and stayed there while the rest of her family and her grandparents, who tired of Utah, moved to Alberta.

Her parents homesteaded at Blackfalds, Alta., in 1900.

"I was just a youngsters of nine then," Hansen said "and I had never seen Annie. Somehow, we were never able to go to Utah to see her. Nor was she able to come to Alberta to see us."

He said that he thought his sister would be back for another visit now that the ice was finally broken.

"It's kind of nice meeting relatives you've never even seen," Hansen grinned.

The average Canadian woman uses eight pairs of full-fashioned hosiery annually.

Food Survey Shows Devaluated Dollar Effect

The family budget is taking a beating as recent price jumps have lowered the dollar to an all-time low value of 53 cents on the basis of pre-war purchasing power.

Despite government predictions that a "levelling off" in prices this summer would obviate the necessity of price controls, Edmontonians are sobered by the recent 3.5 jump in cost of living index. The index now stands at a record high of 187.6.

It also means that the Canadian dollar has a purchasing power of 53 cents as compared to the purchasing power of the dollar of 1939.

Food, rent and clothing are the items which have brought inflation into Canadian homes to the greatest extent. Of these it is possible only to give a valid comparison through the years on food. Clothing prices have varied, but there is the question of quality to be considered. Rents are high, but again the quality of shelter must be evaluated in comparing prices.

Coffee that costs 96 cents a pound today was 10 cents less a year ago. It sold for 35 cents in August, 1946. Oranges that sold for 27 cents a dozen are on the market today at 49 cents a dozen, if a fair amount of juice is to be obtained.

Yesterday chain supermarket groceries. and meat markets listed cooked ham at $1.25 and $1.30 a pound. In 1941 butchers were practically giving the stuff away at 27 cents a pound.

Breakfast cereal was advertised at three packages for 20 cents back in 1941, without mentioning the size of the package .Your cornflakes today cost you 15 cents for an eight-ounce package. Two 24-ounce loaves of bread sold in the 15-cent range in 1941. Today the same bread sells at 18 cents and you get one less loaf.

MacFADDEN MAKES JUMP

NEW YORK — (BUP) — Eighty-three year-old Bernarr MacFadden Sunday parachuted into the chilly waters of the Huson River from a plane to celebrate his birthday. MacFadden wore three suits of long underwear to protect him from the cold, and two parachutes. A boat fished him out minutes after he hit the water.

BRIEREVILLE NEWS BRIEFS

BRIEREVILLE—A lovely United baptismal service was held in the Briereville school house on Sunday, Aug. 19. Children baptized were Clarence Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Erasmus of McRae; Percival Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pruden of Beaver Lake; Robert James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liddle of Briereville; Elwin Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Whitford of Briereville; Gloria Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson of McRae; Dennis Floyd and Barbara Ann, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Callioux of Kikino. Eighty persons attending the service were from Grandin, Briereville, McRae and Kikino. Rev. Greenough of Lac la Biche is clergyman for this district. Services are held in the school house every second Sunday at 3 p.m.

Mr. K. Dafoe of the Three Hills Bible Institute is having Sunday School class in the school house this week for the children.

Visiting at the homes of his friends is Mr. A. Zudeccet and family along with his mother. All are from Edmonton. The friends are Kaufman family, Tesolin family and Caron family.

Congratultaions are being forwarded to Mr. and Mrs. E. Blais of this district who at present are in Edmonton. They announce the birth of another daughter Deborah Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gaberel and son have moved away from this district. Best of luck is extended to them.

Grain cutting has started in the district. Some crops are ready for harvest while others are still green. Let's hope the frost stays away for awhile.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Anderson on the birth of another daughter.

Ross and George Diehl are home to help their father haying.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liddle and son have moved to their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Bourgette are visiting in this district at the Henderson and Hellerud homes.

Our annual picnic on August 5 was a failure. Due to rain and hail. There were quite a few people in attendance. A game of baseball was played between Lac la Biche and Briereville which Lac la Biche won. Then St. Lina and McRae started to play, which was ended by the rain.

Robert Liddle now owns Pete Gaberel's farm as Pete is leaving out district.

On August 9 many of the residents of Briereville and Grandin gathered at the cemetery to clean the brush and weeds away that are growing up.

Whitfords and Thompsons attended Good Fish Lake Treaty where they report a good time.

Visitors at the Reid home lately were Mr. and Mrs. W. Whelen of Helina.

What's to Eat?

That is so easy to solve at the "Marketeria." They have a whole raft of "Frozen Goodness" in their Frozen Food Dept., all so tempting and delicious with their locked-in freshness.

And for that "let's have something different" meal, they have several tasty ideas . . . how about Chop Suey, Chow Mein, Sweet and Sour, etc.?

In those "my-but-it's hot" days you will want to spend as little time as possible in the kitchen. Why not let the "Frozen Foods" from the Marketeria give you time off.

SPECIAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE FITS WORKERS TO JOBS

Jobs that fit the worker, and workers that fit the jobs is the goal of the Special Placement Counselling Service of the National Employment Service.

Hundreds of young people who are entering industrial life for the first time are being assisted in finding jobs most suited to their abilities.

And handicapped persons, ex-prison inmates, and others are being assisted by the service.

"It's not just a matter of finding a person a job," says J. I. Grodeland, director of the Special Placement department.

"It's more a matter of finding what job a person is most suited to, and then locating employment where he can take advantage of his abilities."

Many hours are spent in interviews with applicants to determine their capacities.

"We're particularly interested in placing young people in positions that have a future," Mr. Grodeland said.

"Unfortunately, few school graduates have any idea of their employment capabilities or of the opportunities in the various fields they may be interested in,' he added.

Often a period of apprenticeship is needed before young people are ready to take jobs in the work of their choice.

The placement service works in close cooperation with welfare associations which are often called upon to provide special assistance while job opportunities are being explored.

Therefore, placement in a job is not always the immediate objective, as this may be preceded by further education or vocational training.

The service has been very successful in locating jobs for physically handicapped persons.

Jobs must be found for the handicapped where they can perform as effectively as if they had no handicap.

Thus, every effort is made to capitalize on what a person has left to make up for what he has lost.

"There's something every handicapped person can master," Mr. Grodeland said.

Success in placing the handicapped always depends on cooperation from employers, in offering positions to fit people with handicaps.

Last year jobs were found for over 500 handicapped persons, and it is expected more will be found this year.

The service also places around an average of 150 young people a month in their first jobs.

Total placements by the National Employment Service here totalled 30,000 in 1950, and will exceed that figure this year.

In addition, the placement service finds jobs for ex prison inmates, and has so far met with great success in this field.

Weekly Newsmen Name New Officers

WINNIPEG—(BUP) — New officers to serve the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association during the next year were elected at the group's convention here.

A. W. Hanks, of the St. James Leader, Winnipeg, was elected president. He succeeds Lang Sands of the Fraser Valley Record, Mission City, B.C.

Other officers elected include: First vice-president, Robert Moore, the Sun, Swift Current, Sask.; second vice-president, W. K. Walls, the Examiner, Barrie, Ont.; managing director, W. E. McCartney, Brampton, Ont.

Union Membership Here Is Equal to National Ratio

Organized labor is as well established here, and with the same proportion of membership of the total population, as in any other city in Canada.

An Edmonton Sun survey this week revealed that the proportion of union members to the city's population—about one in 13—is the same as the proportion for the whole country.

It was announced in Ottawa that labor union membership had reached 1,029,000 in Canada, or, on the basis of a total population of 14,000,000, just under one in 13.

Edmonton, with a population of 165,000, has an estimated 12,500 union members, supporting the same one in 13 ratio.

As elsewhere throughout the country, the Trade and Labor Council has more members than any other labor group. The T and LC has over 6,000 affiliated with the Edmonton Council.

The Canadian Congress of Labor have most of their Alberta members in industries, such as coal mining, outside the major cities.

In Edmonton they have about 1,700 workers, the largest group of which is the Packinghouse Workers.

International railroad brotherhoods, not affiliated with either congress, have near 2,000 members here.

In addition, there are several independent unions with a total membership of about 2,800.

The Lighter Side

Chivalry Not Dead

Gertie: "I heard your new boy friend is very polite."

Bertie: "Oh, yes. He has excellent manners. Every time I drop something, he kicks it over to where I can pick it up more easily."

Take Me

One of John's best friends had died, so he called on the widow to express his sympathy.

"Jim and I were friends," he said. "Isn't there something I could have as a memento of him?"

She raised her velvety brown eyes, which a few seconds before had been wet with tears. "How would I do?" she asked.

Unremitting Kindness

The son in college was applying pressure for more money from home. "I cannot understand why you call yourself a kind father," he wrote dad, "when you haven't sent me a cheque for three weeks." What kind of kindness do you call that?"

"That's unremitting kindness," wrote the father in his next letter.

That's Settled!

A man had a house located right on the border between the United States and Canada. Nobody knew whether the house was on the American side or the Canadian side. A committee was set up to investigate the situation. The decision was that the house was in the United States.

"Wonderful!" explained the owner. "Now I won't have to suffer those terrible Canadian winters."

Mutual Proposition

Young Jones seemed inordinately proud of his new car. One day his next door neighbor passed to compliment him upon its immaculate appearance. "Jones," the neighbor remarked, "you certainly keep your car clean."

The proud owner grinned sheepishly, and rejoined: "Heck, it's mutual—it keeps me clean, too."

Silly Man

The woman motorist was trying to navigate a traffic jam. She rammed the car in front of her, then tried to back and knocked down a pedestrian. Then she smacked into hydrant. A policeman came up.

"Okay, lady, let's see your license," he demanded.

"Don't be silly," she grunted, "who'd give me a license?"

LETTER TO LOUISA

Wife Shouldn't Work When Home Life Ignored

Dear Louisa: My husband and I are both working and have been ever since our marriage with the exception of a few years when our little son was born and after.

We have accumulated a nice little bit of property and have a savings account. We have an educational insurance account for our boy's education.

I am getting tired of working so hard because I do not feel that it is necessary. I think I should have someone to do some of the housework if I keep on with my job outside but my husband does not agree with me. He says he works after he gets off from his regular job and I should be willing to do so, also.

But what is life for if I work from morning until night and then fill up my evenings with cleaning and canning and sewing?

Don't you think this thing of saving every penny can be carried too far?

TIRED WIFE.

Answer: All work and no play makes Jack not only a dull boy but shortens his life.

No one appreciates the need of laying up something for a rainy day more than I do but there are some people who get in the habit of pinching pennies when it is necessary and, when easier times arrive, they keep on doing so. It actually becomes a disease with them and they put enlarging that bank account ahead of everything else in the world.

Their wives and families have to do without help, recreation and fun until they get too old and worn out to enjoy a good time or a nice trip.

They die and their heirs usually spend what they have accumulated with abandon.

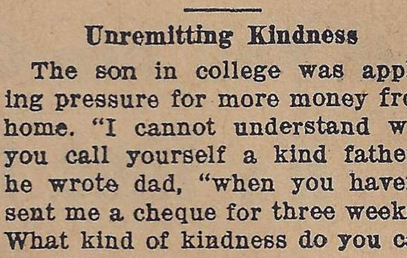

Why cannot men and women strike a happy medium when it comes to work and play? Put aside something for your old age but have some pleasure as you go through life.

In your case, you should certainly have some help at home if you are working outside.

Instead of spending every evening at home, dress up and make your husband take you out at least once a week. It will do you both good.

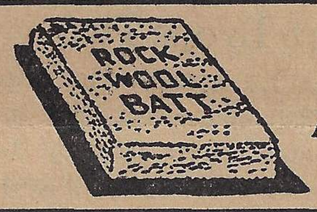

LOUISA.
